GROUP 2: BEST FINAL PHD THESIS AWARD

An award of EUR 5000 will be given to the author of the best thesis

Criteria	Description
Eligibility	The applicant must be enrolled in any European university/institute (in any of the 35 European countries including 27 European Union countries, Iceland, Norway, Serbia, Switzerland, Turkey, UK and Ukraine) for his/her PhD study. Any flavor related project that has led to the submission of a PhD in 2026. The applicant should not be already sponsored by, and/or bound to, a commercial organization. The winning candidate must be able to present all his/her research to programme sponsors, including patented work.
Thesis	The thesis should clearly explain the starting hypotheses or the goals and aims of the work. Research does not necessarily need to be restricted to scientific aspects, but can also cover other features of flavor science such as business policy, marketing, legislation, consumer impact, etc. Clarity of expression and effective communication of results is a key aspect in assessing the thesis. Appropriate data analysis should be evident. Clear abstracts and summaries are expected. Clear Figures and Tables are expected.
Novelty	All PhD studies should contain a degree of novelty and this will be part of the judging criteria. Novelty may be a new method for studying flavor or new findings or some other aspect of the PhD study
Results	The results should show good experimental design and robust methodology, e.g. adequate replication and sampling to support the conclusions.
Publications	Some theses are composed of published papers, others are more narrative in style. Thus, the judging criteria will take these different styles into consideration and publication of the thesis results will not be an essential criterion for judging.
Language	English. If the thesis is not in English, the 10-page summary must be in English.
Registration	Registration must be accompanied by evidence of enrolment in 2026 at the university/institute. All documents to be countersigned by the professor concerned. Deadline for registration: October 30, 2026
Final thesis	The submitted thesis must be countersigned by the Professor concerned. Only the electronic version of the final thesis will be accepted. Deadline for thesis submission: December 1, 2026
Evaluation	January 25, 2027: Best thesis selection to be announced
Award and Presentation	Scheduled March 11/12, 2027: The successful candidate will be invited to Geneva to present his/her work to sponsoring companies and to attend Giract's Annual Savory Flavor and Food Industry Conference. The award of EUR 5000 will be presented at this meeting.
